

COLOMBIAN

Santa Marta

ROAST: MEDIUM

Deeply rich and opulent with milk chocolate-like notes.

↑ Coffee cherries ripen on the vine in Santa Marta, Colombia

Our Colombian coffee is sourced from Red Ecolsierra, an organic producer association that works in the Ciénaga, Aracataca, Fundación y Santa Marta municipalities of Magdalena. Red Ecolsierra organic coffee farms dot the mountainsides of this region of Colombia, overlooking the Caribbean Sea. Here, the mountains rise dramatically from a calm beach to rainforest conditions at ideal coffee elevation. Cloud cover over the mountain ridge captures moisture, producing high quality, large, rich coffee beans under rainforest shade. The coffee balances milk chocolate flavors with berry notes: a truly rich experience.

FARMER FACTS: With a focus on biodiversity and sustainability, the Red Ecolsierra farm group have worked together to create wildlife protection programs, and in addition to coffee, produce honey and cacao.
